ABOUT THE OECD

The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) is an international organisation comprised of 38 member countries, that works to build better policies for better lives. Our mission is to promote policies that will improve the economic and social well-being of people around the world.

Together with governments, policy makers and citizens, we work on establishing evidence-based international standards, and finding solutions to a range of social, economic and environmental challenges. From improving economic performance and creating jobs to fostering strong education and fighting international tax evasion, we provide a unique forum and knowledge hub for data and analysis, exchange of experiences, best-practice sharing, and advice on public policies and international standard-setting.

Its main goal is to give successful candidates the opportunity to improve their analytical and technical skills as well as to work in a truly international environment.

The OECD Internship Programme aims to bring highly qualified and motivated students with diverse backgrounds to work on projects linked to the Strategic Orientations of the Secretary-General.

My internship at the OECD has been a truly enriching experience. Over the past months, I've connected with many inspiring people and grown both professionally and personally. As someone who interns in Communications, I'm glad to have gotten the chance to be involved in a wide range of projects at the OECD and help promote topics that matter.

My time spent at OECD was a completely new experience of learning from the best. I had the opportunity to meet interns from very diverse backgrounds, and I felt welcomed by all the team and staff. I am very glad to have contributed to a comprehensive assessment of some macroeconomic and environmental policies in Latin America.

The internship opportunity at OECD is the most valuable experience I've ever had. My colleagues at DAF were so welcoming and helped me to quickly adapt to the team. Working with colleagues from various cultures to share dynamic and insightful perspectives will shape me into a person who will bring more positive impacts to the world in the future.

The OECD internship programme has given me the opportunity to work in projects I know will have an impact on people's lives.
